Helping Hand, Atlantic avenue. The Delmonico Soup Kitchens.

About 12,000 persons were served yesterday with fish chowder and beef soup at the different Delmonico soup kitchens. The chowder, made by order of Mr. Rantiter, is really excellent, and for those whose scruples do not warrant their eating a meat soup on Friday the chowder is an excel lent and nourishing substitute. There are plenty of potatoes and onions in the chowder, as well as of potatoes and onions in the chowder, as well as some other vegetables. About 800 gallons of chowder were served yesterday, and about 1,700 gallons of good beel soup also to the poor.

The Nineteenth precent kitchen.

This precinct is a very large one, and is in charge of Captain Gunher. Great pains have been taken by Mr. Delmonico's chef, Mr. Rannoler, to supply the people who can here, a large percentage of whom are laborers (and their wives) on the parks and boulevards, and there is an excellent soup kitchen, tartished with two boilers, in which spleand hot soup is furnished every day to the poor. With the exception of a hieral donation of 500 loaves by Mr. James McCabe, of East Sixty-first street, no bread has been impushed, and, had that gentleman not made his timely supply, the poor of this district would have had to take their soup without bread. Donations from citizens and irlends of the poor will be thankfully received at the kitchen and distributed to the poor who come for their daily supply of food.

"Thank God the nights are not cold now and the hearts of the rich are warm as well!" Many such ejaculations came from techle line vesterday as the great concourse of the poor stood in the court of st, John's chapel. It would, indeed, be difficult to estimate the relief to the sufferers the present warm season brings. Little ones, half clad, no longer crouch about dreary hearthstones, in which they strive to keep alive the embers of a dying fire, but pass their days and nights in something akin to comfort. The aged, who will soon succumb to the calli of death enveloping their poor, wornout bones, no longer are compelled to endure the lingering pain of an antemortem sepulture, and find some relief from their cruel late in the comiorts the Guild furnishes. Altogether were supplied with food yesterday, while only $55 85 was received in donations. It will be seen by the number of applicants that the hunger of the many poor is not allayed by the weather, while the receipts show in an equally pointed manner that food will soon be needed to supply them. Enterprises are now on foot that will bring to the treasury of the Guid, it is hoped, a hand-some sum; but in the meantime bread must be bought and clothing furnished and doctors' bills bought and clothing infinished and doctors bins paid.

The following are from among the notes returned by visitors last evening:—

A MAN AND WIFE SEWING FOR LIFE.

Mr. Palmer reports the case of Mr. and Mrs.

C.—, a very intelligent couple, educated and refined. The husband is afflicted with lung disease, which conged him to leave his trade, and he has tried to get open air employment in vain. This wife taught him to "baste" and doctor coarse work on a sewing machine coarse work on a sewing ma-

His wife taught him to "baste" and do other coarse work on a sewing machine, and they procured two machines and worked side by side steadily on all the nabrics they could get to make up. Work failed them after a time and their sewing machines were taken away. The visitor advanced them $10 to procure two other machines and pay the first semi-monthly instalment, and they were furnished with food from the Guild till such time as they obtain employment. In a few days they will have to make another payment on the machines, and they have but a dollar or two earned. They owe $40 for rent and are endeavoring to pay it dollar by dollar. When found they had no food not fuel.

NO FOOD AND EVERTITION FAWNED.
The same visitor reports another invalid, suffering from consumption and unable to get employment, though applying daily for the past four months. He has excellent testimonials from foreign shipping odices, having been an officer in the English merchant marine. This man's wife, a little woman in delicate health, works when she can, and at times they have been without food for days. They have a child, a boy twelve years of age. Everything they have of value has been pawned. They are both anxious to obtain work. "WHAT WOULD THE FOOR DO BUT FOR THE GUILD?" Airs Upham reports the case of a family at No. 16 Henry street. A mother and four children are living there, in a state of the aimost destination—no fire, no food, no clothing. The eldest daughter, a young woman, was sitting on a broken chair when the visitor entered. The poor creature stockingless, shoeless and almost without covering—was trying to patch together the tattered fragments of a garment. Everything that will out covering—was trying to patch together the tattered fragments of a garment. TWENTY-SEVENTH PRECINCT.

Relief Through the Police and the

If any one has a desire to see what can be accomplished in the way of charity through the aid of the police they had better go down some alternoon and witness the distribution of food at the Twentyseventh precinct station house. When the cry for food resounded from all quarters Ca, tain Lowery instructed his men to solicit contributions from the different deale s in his precinct, and when the goods arrived he piaced the distribution of the same in the hands of Mrs. John Fox and the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Assembly district. By thus working conjointly-the police providing the lood and the ladies visiting and personally ascertaining the necessities of the poor-an .mmeuse amount of good has been done during the past two weeks. Mrs. John Fox told the HERALD reporter that the Ladies' Ald Society had only been formed a few months and before they received the assistance of Captain Lowery their distributions had been chiefly confined to clothing, but that now the donations of meat, bread, vegetables and groceries have been so iberat that they are in the way of assisting some 500 lamilies.

Yestercay afternoon a number of women and children, carrying baskets and bags, were collected outside the station awaiting the arrival of the ladies who look charge of the distribution.
The house was crowded with barrels or potatoes, turnips, parsnips, oat meal, flour, rice and cabbages, bundles of dried lish and several whole sheep. The ladies arrived at three o'clock, and were soon hard at work putting the good things up in packages and arranging everything at hand, so as to insure a specily transaction of business. The applicants were admitted in baiches of ten, and their tackets were then handed to Mrs.
Fox. snowing that their families had been visited and were deserving of reiter. When the tacket had been pronounced all right the basket was seized by Mrs. Sayder, and, passing through half a dozen busy mands, each attending to some special line of provisions, it was soon returned to the applicant, who trotted off with a smiling face and loaded down with enough to give comfort and happiness to her family for some days to come. The distribution asted for several hours, daring which time several hundred families were supplied with food and the following list of goods distributed:—

CHARITY ENTERTAINMENT.

Last evening an entertainment was given at Lese Verein Hall, Fifty-fifth street and Third avenue, under the auspices of the William A. Darling Club, for the benefit of the poor of the Nineteenth ward. The programme consisted of a lecture by Major General George H. Sharpe, on "The Last Hours of the Confederacy," and vocal selections by a quartet of well known vocalists. The audience was not as large as was expected, considering the object to which the proceeds are to be devoted.

THE CITY DEBT.

Taxpayers Bemanding an Investigation of the Comptroller's Office.

Allegations That Debts Amounting to Thousands of Dollars Have Been Paid Twice and of Wilral Violation of the Charter.

A memorial of the citizens and taxpavers of the city of New York has been forwarded to the Legislature. It includes certain specific charges, given below, accompanied by details in reference to those charges; also a history of the Finance Department since November, 1871. It contrasts the management from the years 1869, 1870 and 1871 to 1872, 1873 and 1874, and alleges that the "swindling" administration of Tammany is preferable to the present manazement. It also alleges that there has been "wilful violation of the provisions of the charter, to the injury and loss of the city," and that the Comptroller has paid to himself the sum of $26,941 as pretended back pay, without any authority of law. The following are the any authority of law. The following are the points of the charges made:—

First—Collesively acting with one Dexter A. Hawkins in reservence to a presended claim by the latter against the city of New York, amounting to upwards of $8,000, and traudulently paying the same.

Secon—Gross instanagement and culpable incompetency to administer the affairs of the department of which he is the head.

From this willium neglect of duty on the part of the Compiteller the tax payers have aiready severely suffered by the payment of interest, and from other causes, to the extent of $1,000,000, and under the present management of the Finance department this loss and injury continues to increase.

The report goes on to say:—

The report goes on to say :-The report goes on to say:—

Comptroller Green was appointed head of the Finance Department by Mayor Hall in November, 1871. His manazement from that time until the meeting of the Legislature January, 1872, was one of "masterly inactivity." During the three years preceding Mr. Green's management of the Finance Department—that is, from the beginning of Mayor Hall's term of office, which Mr. Green is never wearied in describing as the most calamitous the city ever endured—the burdens of the city and county were as follows:—
